CHARLES GARDNER (1931-2013) & EARL GARNER (1933-2013)

The Texas Fiddle community has experienced a couple of major losses within the last month. For those who may not have heard by now, I regret to inform the membership on the passing of former TOTFA Board member and president, Charles Gardner, of Nacogdoches, and fiddling great Earl Garner, of Elkhart, Texas. Being a fellow East Texan, I have had the distinct pleasure of knowing these men for the better part of thirty years and they both have made a huge impact in my life both musically and personally. I could probably write a book about these men, but I will try to keep it brief, yet honor their contributions at the same time for this newsletter. I know I can speak on behalf of the membership when I say they will both be missed and we all extend our deepest sympathies to the families. Earl passed away at his home on August 14th at the age of 80. He was retired from the Texas Department of Criminal Justice (Institutional Division) as a maintenance supervisor. He was also a 32nd degree Mason. While his style of fiddling was more bluegrass than Texas style, he was a member of TOTFA for many years and was always very supportive of our contests and attended as many as possible. I always enjoyed his approach to fiddling and one thing you could never say is that he lacked tempo! He was always a willing and capable judge and was very encouraging of the young up and coming fiddlers. Through the years, I have had the honor and pleasure of sharing many stages with Earl, whether it was local bluegrass shows and festivals, fiddle contests, or jam sessions all over the East Texas area. He played fiddle in many bluegrass bands over the years, most notably with the, "Father of Bluegrass," Bill Monroe, and the legendary Jimmy Martin. He knew countless fiddle tunes and actually developed several of his own tunes. Seemingly every time we were together, he took the time to show me an old tune no one played anymore or one of his original tunes.

He was good friends with Charles as well, and while they greatly enjoyed giving each other grief, it was all out of respect and friendship. Earl certainly leaves behind great memories with his many friends and fans alike.

Charles passed away on August 13, less than twenty-four hours before Earl, at the age of 81. He was a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, getting his BS in education in 1954 and his MA in 1958. He received his commission as a 2nd Lieutenant in the US Army as an officer in the infantry and served as a Rifle Marksmanship Instructor at the Infantry School in Fort Benning and later at Fort Bliss he served as Company Commander. He received an Honorable Discharge in 1962 as a (permanent) 1st Lieutenant. He taught geography at Austin Peay State University, Southeastern State University, and Ball State University before finally retiring in 1996 after 30 years at Stephen F. Austin State University. While at SFA, he and fellow faculty members, (Abe Abernathy, Stan Alexander, and Tom Nail), created a band called the "East Texas String Ensemble," in which Charles played fiddle and mandolin.

Recording a couple of albums along the way, they performed for twenty-five years. During that time, they made many appearances at the Texas Folklife Festival in San Antonio, and also made several trips to Central America entertaining on behalf of the US State Department. My first memories of Charles are from the weekly Saturday afternoon jam sessions at the Old Time String Shop in downtown Nacogdoches. My dad and I would go there very often when I first started playing guitar and I remember being amazed at his vast knowledge of not only music, but the history of the music. He could play many instruments very well but he seemed to have a particular passion for fiddle music and actually played in contests many years ago before later focusing his talents on bass as an accompanist. When I had the good fortune of meeting East Texas fiddle legend, Smokey Butler, I knew I had to introduce the two of them. They would travel together going to contests and jams all over the state of Texas and several times out of state as well. What an education and opportunity that was for me as a young man to hear all the stories from these two about the legends of the past I never had the chance to meet in person. Charles knew and played with practically all of the Texas fiddle greats and had so many great stories about them all. I will forever be grateful to him for his friendship, generosity, and his encouragement through the years. I certainly would not have had the honor of serving for the past ten years as a board member or president of TOTFA were it not for the influence of Charles Gardner.

In regards to our 2013 TOTFA Convention, we have decided to hold it at our annual contest in Glen Rose, Texas, in November. It was the best situation for us this year and we greatly appreciate the McPherson family for allowing us to use their contest as our 2013 convention. More details will be in the upcoming newsletters. We have three contests in the month of October. The contests will be held in Bowie, Seguin, and Gilmer. I hope to see large turnouts at each of these events!

Happy Fiddlin' Bryan
